To Whom It May Concern – Reference Nino Petterlin .....Petcon Constructions

Our company has worked with Nino over a fifteen year period on a variety of both commercial and residential projects.

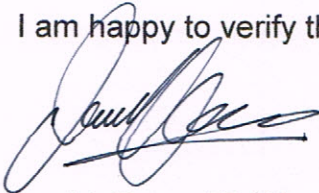

The residential projects, which in our case are primarily extensions and alterations, have been completed to a high level of finish and quality.

The commercial projects, mainly office and warehouses buildings (which in some cases have been rather complex), have also been constructed to a similar high quality finish in a tightly controlled manner particularly in respect to budget control.

Nino is an extremely capable builder and whilst being a good manager is also very much a "Hands On" builder which makes him in our opinion an even more valuable builder to have on site. He understands and is aware of every facet of the construction phase at all times monitoring performance and progress all of which is most beneficial for our clients all of whom give him good reports at the completion of the projects.

We have no hesitation in recommending Nino for any construction to be performed.
